

GENERATION | squeeze Community Forum

Keynote Speaker: Dr. Paul Kershaw, UBC School of Population & Public Health

More than ever, Canadians in their 20s, 30s and 40s, and the kids they are raising, face lower earnings, higher costs, less time and a deteriorating environment.

Dr. Kershaw will talk about why it's time for a Better Generational Deal, one that works for young and old alike.

Please visit www.gensqueeze.ca for more information about the movement.

Date: September 17th
Time: 12:30pm-4:00pm
Location: The BMO Centre,
295 Rectory St.,
London, ON
Cost: $20.00

Agenda

- 12:30pm Registration
- 1:00pm Welcome, opening remarks and introduction by Middlesex-London Health Unit
- 1:05pm Keynote Speaker – Dr. Paul Kershaw
- 3:05pm Break
- 3:15pm Representative from the London Youth Advisory Council
- 3:35pm Representative from GenNext
- 3:55pm Wrap-up and closing remarks

Registration is available online at:

<http://www.eventbrite.ca/e/generation-squeeze-community-forum-tickets-18294313785>

- ADVANCED REGISTRATION ONLY!

Registration fee- $20

- Includes light snacks and refreshments

Registration deadline – September 14th

Free parking available.

For more information, please contact: Stephanie McKee, Middlesex-London Health Unit,
519-663-5317, ext. 2260 | stephanie.mckee@mlhu.on.ca

